

AN OUTSTANDING COLLECTION:
RUSSIAN OPERA AND BALLET THEATRE
3D FILMING

□ PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Over the years the Russian theatre has garnered broad critical acclaim in Europe, the Americas, Australasia, and worldwide. However, there are some who might think that opera and ballet productions may remain elitist and somewhat conservative as an art form. We firmly believe that comprehensive television coverage should afford everyone a cherished opportunity of watching the best Russian drama and musical shows that have now, for the first time in many years, been made available to foreign viewers all over the world.

By broadcasting the celebrated Russian theatrical productions on television, we can provide numerous foreign audiences with an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the best works available in this country up to date. These will now come directly on to your TV screen in the middle of your drawing room. That is how we envisage an inception of a brand new era of closer and more creative collaboration between the worlds of theatre and television, thus gradually facilitating the emergence of an entirely new form of art.

INTV (Innovative Television Ltd) is the only enterprise in Russia that operates right at the forefront of revolutionary 3D filming and television technologies, offering these as services to a wide range of broadcast companies. What has become common knowledge is that most films and network programs currently made in Hollywood have been produced with the use and meticulous application of the said technologies. They are also utilized by the world's leading TV channels: NBC, BBC, BskyB, and many others. Nowadays that we have begun to apply those as well, we are able to film and digitally re-master the masterworks of Russian theatrical art, including creation of cinematic and television version of the famous and best-loved stage plays.

What is indicated below is a comprehensive selection of a range of popular productions made by the leading Russian theatres, all of which could be broadcast directly on to your channels:

What we offer to your attention is a paramount project that has had no precedents before and encompasses a large variety of Russian classical and modern-day theatre productions.

Foreign audiences based anywhere in the world now have the chance to view the best shows produced in the drama and musical theatre, filmed in the newest 3D technology. Their selection is fairly broad as well, and ranges from opera and ballet to classical and modern dramas, as well as experimental shows.

Because of the high quality of the productions we film, we are confident they will help you to further diversify your channels' broadcasting programs. Connoisseurs of art will certainly appreciate the ballet, opera or drama filmed with the highest digital quality. Now that the age of digital broadcasting has invariably kicked off, the facilitation of broadcast of various theatrical shows has turned a new page in the annals of television history. Today you can actually take an active part in this exciting process if you choose to become a partner with INTV Ltd.

The theatre art is alive and kicking only on stage when and whilst the viewers are watching. This only exists here and now, so it is of paramount importance that the original theatre productions are preserved as best they can, so that all of them could then be admired and seen time and time again by theatre-goers and critics alike. Currently, what with the rapid advance and development of the digital techniques and equipment, it has become possible to facilitate the creation of our own video digital archive. If you choose to have us install it for you, you will then be able to keep your favourite DVDs and other materials for as long as you would wish to.

We have gained considerable work experience filming live broadcasts of such coveted and prestigious ceremonies as 'Oscars', 'Miss World', etc. Filming those with a limited number of takes or sometimes even without them helps us achieve an effect of an unbroken theatre where action takes place in real time and a unique atmosphere of a full-house venue at which the event in question has been diligently preserved. Not a single transient moment can be missed in all our film materials, for we strive to retain and preserve the clearest and purest impression of action taking place on stage before an audience.

We offer not only completed 3D productions, but also casual and dress rehearsals leading to actual premieres. Nowadays you can enjoy those magical moments of creation anytime you want to. This means that you will be able to truly appreciate and study the moments of creation whenever you want. We would always be glad to consider different terms and options of collaboration between ourselves and all our clients.

Sincerely yours,
